Inside the complex, you will see two churches from the 17th century. You will have approximately 40 minutes to explore the complex.

At 11:30, you will continue your drive to witness the meeting point of two small mountain rivers. These rivers are famous for maintaining their distinct colors even after merging. As you continue on your way, you will also have the opportunity to taste the mineral mountain springs in Mleta.

Day 6: Absheron Peninsula Half-Day Tour & Baku Night Tour

Located 30 kilometers away from the center of Baku, on the southeastern outskirts of Surakhany village in the Absheron Peninsula, stands the Ateshgah temple, also known as “The House of Fire” or “The Place of Fire”. This temple is renowned for its extraordinary natural phenomenon – the burning of natural gas. When the gas breaks onto the surface and comes into contact with oxygen, it ignites, creating a mesmerizing sight. The temple itself is a pentagonal structure consisting of 26 cells and one room, surrounded by a battlement. It has an entrance portal with a guest room called balakhane above it. In the center of the courtyard, you will find the rotunda of the temple altar, where an unquenchable fire burns. Adjacent to the temple is a rectangular hole where the bodies of deceased Indians were traditionally cremated in the sacred fire.

Not far from this small village, you will discover Mount Yanardagh in the Absheron Peninsula. In the Azerbaijani language, "Yanar" means "burning", and "Dagh" means "mountain". True to its name, this is a real burning mountain, not just a metaphorical one. In the past, there were several places in Absheron where natural gas would spontaneously ignite upon reaching the surface. However, with the widespread extraction of oil and gas in the region, these places gradually disappeared. Mount Yanardagh is now the only remaining site where this unique natural phenomenon can be witnessed – the continuous output of natural gas to the surface, resulting in a perpetual flame.

Afterwards, you will have the opportunity to visit the Heydar Aliyev Cultural Center.

Experience a captivating evening excursion in Baku accompanied by your own personal chauffeur. Explore the prominent landmarks and make stops at your leisure to capture memorable photographs, acquire unique souvenirs, or simply wander through your preferred destinations. Ascend to Highland Park for an awe-inspiring panoramic vista of Baku Bay, offering unparalleled views from the city's highest vantage point. Journey towards the Flame Towers, an extraordinary trio of skyscrapers symbolizing flames, whose remarkable construction was finalized in 2012. Additionally, during your nocturnal tour of Baku, you have the option to visit Government House, the State Philharmonic Hall, the Mugam Center, or the Carpet Museum. Marvel at the architectural brilliance of the Heydar Aliyev Center, masterfully crafted by the renowned architect Zaha Hadid. Before concluding your evening, take a leisurely stroll along Baku Boulevard, which gracefully parallels the city's picturesque waterfront, before returning to the comfort of your hotel.

Day 7: Full Day Gabala City Tour

On the seventh day of your trip, we will take you to the captivating city of Gabala in the north-west of Azerbaijan. As we make our way there, we will pass through other cities such as Shamakhi and Ismayilli. Gabala is renowned for its stunning natural beauty and rich history, making it one of the most beautiful parts of Azerbaijan.

In this region, you will find a plethora of historical and cultural monuments from different eras.
